Shutout in Second.

Petersburg, Va., July 11.—For the second time in three days, Heinle Busch sent Hedgpeth in to win for him, and the big southpaw delivered to the tune of 4 to 1, allowing four hits and retiring eight by the strike-out route. Besides the work of Hedgpeth, the foar tures of the game were Barnett's three-base drive to the clubhouse and the hitting of Brennegan and Keller. A wonderful throw by the left fielder, when his peg to Krepps from deep left caught Cook as he slid into second, was the fielding feature.

Cooper went in to win the second and had an easy time of it, coming out with a 4 to 0 shut-out to his credit, and with six more names added to his strike-out list.

RED SOX LOSE TO BROWNS

St. Louis, Mo., July II.—The Browns fell on Bedlent, of the Red Sox in the first fining to-day, collecting four runs and putting to the game on ice. The final score was 5 to 1. Hamilton, in the first Inning, seemed to lack control, but after that period he settled down and pitched beautiful ball, especially with men on bases. Agnew, the catcher for St. Louis, was easily the star of the game, backing up his pitcher in great style and getting a double, two singers and a sacrifice. Two quick double plays robbed Boston of runs, one being a long throw from Williams to the plate to catch Yerkes after getting Speaker's fly. The score:

Can't Score Single Run in Two Meet Later in Month to Decide Tennis Championship of World.

wonderful, it is indeed a creditable performance for the Americans to have made such short work of the best German team and singles players.

Hackett won the first service and took his game as the Goman appeared to be "cold," and took considerable time to get going.

McLoughlin won all but two of his services. Both of these he might have won if he had not felt so certain of victory. But the auburn-haired Californian would not put over a "soft" second ser-vice after a fault. Intsead, he would put more speed behind his racket on the second ball, and many times he had double net faults called on him. to the gallery.

The Germans played a better game than they did when they appeared at Wimbledon, in the British championships. The game played by Hackett and McLoughlin to-day showed that they had adopted the style used by Hackett and his former partner, Alexander. Time after time Hackett's long high and certain lobs would bring the German pair rushing to the net, and a deadly smash by either of the American pair would result in an ace for Amer-

Kleinschroth's service was weak and lacked judgment, while all of his lobs were hit for almost certain aces by Hackett and McLoughlin. Rahe did well with his forehand strokes on low ground balls in the early part of the match, and was at all times good on hard volleys, keeping a cool head and a stir racket.

By winning the doubles in a decisive fashion to-day America is practically assured of an easy path into the challenge match against England. The two singles matches will be little more than practice for the Americans, while Hackett and McLoughlin should re-reat their doubles triumph against the players from the Dominion.
